FEBRUARY 2024

This Month's Character
Theme: Honesty

Honesty is an essential ingredient for any relationship. While it means telling the truth and not lying, honesty also implies trustworthiness, sincerity, loyalty, and fairness. The best way to teach your child to be honest is to model the trait yourself!

Testing?

This time of year there's a lot of buzz about standardized testing. What does that mean for home education program students? Do they need to test or not? According to the Florida State Statues, home education program students are not required to take part in state and district level tests. However, if you would like to have your student participate, contact your home education office to make arrangements.
